Welcome to the first mj&co newsletter

Wednesday 11 April saw the launch of mj&co's new winter range, held in Margot's Lounge at the Point Hotel in Pyrmont. Everyone had a sensational time trying on jewels from mj&co, catching up with girlfriends or having their cards read by Kate St. Clair (please see note below for Kate's details).

However, don't worry if you couldn't attend the evening—mj&co can come to you!

Afternoons/Evenings with mj&co

Host your own afternoon or evening at home, or in the office. mj&co will assist you in organising your event, designing an invitation and providing an afternoon/evening of glamour.

Jewellery can make or break an outfit. Sometimes its not just about the clothes, rather how you accessorise to create the desired look. A little black dress with a classic mj&co necklace looks elegant. If you add a long beaded necklace to the same outfit your look can be stylish and casual. So next time you think you have nothing to wear—consider getting mj&co jewellery to revamp an old outfit.

The Point Hotel, Harris Street, Pyrmont : Is one of inner Sydney's most historic pubs. Offering great bars, delicious food and friendly staff. Margot's Lounge is located on the first floor—with its deep rich tones, plush furniture and open fireplaces Margot's a perfect place to chill out. Contact Dean on 9660 1908.

Kate St. Clair has always had a great fascination with the mystery of the tarot. Since becoming a reader she has realised what an amazing and powerful tool it can be. The tarot is a great way to understand your surrounding energies and help raise self awareness.

Kate believes the aim of the readings should be to inspire and send positive affirmations to the client. It should help give direction to any challenges they may be facing. Everyone has their own inner wisdom and the tarot is a great way to remind us of that. This in turn helps people create their own fortune.
